Sunday, September 12th • 11 am & 1 pm

In the Town of Hempstead 30 bay houses once stood on island marshlands, originally built by fishermen and baymen that have been passed down from generation to generation. After Superstorm Sandy only 14 remained, with many damaged. We will be visiting two of the survivors on each trip. The owners are repairing their historic houses, now considered eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places.

Take a tour on small vessels for the 1½ hour trip to these historic houses. Proof of vaccinations is required 2 weeks prior to the trip.

Due to safety concerns space is limited to 12 people per trip ages 10 and up. Participants must be able to climb ladders and feel comfortable in a work environment.

Long Island Traditions members can register beginning June 14. All others can register beginning July 7.

Ticket limit 2/per person. For reservations call LI Traditions at (516) 767-8803.

No children under 10 permitted. Rain cancels.

Space is limited to 12 people per trip so reserve early!
